

March Letter from the University Library

March 3, 2008

University of Wisconsin-Whitewater

Library News

Got Books? We'll Take 'Em

The Library book sale is Mon. April 14-Thurs. April 17, 2008. We'd love to help you clean off your shelves by accepting your donations of books, leisure reading material, videos, children's books, games, etc. What we don't add to the Library's collection, we'll sell at the book sale.

For drop-off or on-campus pickup arrangements, please contact Doreen Acker-Ritter (ackerd@uw.edu x5575)

Commercial Document Delivery

The Library has expanded access to commercial document delivery services for articles. You will still request and receive your articles via ILLiad. The delivery service takes care of copyright clearance. With these services, we won't max out the number of articles we're allowed to get from a particular journal (an interlibrary loan restriction).

From the Library's home page, click on:

My Accounts > ILLiad Account

Journal Holdings List

The Journal Holdings list shows all 16,000 journals the Library holds in print and online. So be sure to check the list to find out whether we hold the journal you need. If the journal is online, you can quickly link to it from the list.

From the Library's home page, click on:

Find > Journal Holdings

Survey Says

Ever feel like you're talking and no one is listening? Take the LibQual+ survey and we'll listen. To take the survey, follow the link in the email you've received.

Library Programs in March

Invest Now, Relax Later!

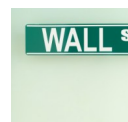

Investment Resources Workshops

Prof. John Howat & Prof. David Porter will share their knowledge of stocks and mutual funds and answer any questions that you may have about investing.

Thursday, March 6, 2008 4-5 pm

BI Lab (Andersen Library, L2211)

No reservations needed

DiG iT: Container Gardening

Amy Sanders and Patty Kuper of Pesche's Greenhouse, Floral Shop & Gift Barn, near Lake Geneva, will share their secrets for designing and creating container gardens that will flourish best in your setting.

Friday, March 14, 2008 1:30-2:30 pm

International Educ. Conference Room (Andersen Library, L2254)

No reservations needed

Sponsored by Friends of the Library

LEARN Center Program on Copyright

Patricia Fragola, Circulation Coordinator, University Library, will discuss copyright law as it relates to teaching, and will answer your questions about issues like what may be digitized for D2L or placed on e-Reserve.

Tuesday, March 18, 2008 12:30-1:30 pm

University Center 266