Take Andersen Library With You

All summer long, Andersen Library is working for you — even if you're on an adventure or in a galaxy far, far away.

First of all, faculty and staff can check out academic books for the entire summer. That's right, May through August! Students can check out books for 28 days and renew them once. Using your HALCat Personal Record, you can request renewals of titles you have checked out.

Your Hawkcard gives you in-person access to any UW System library and allows you to borrow books and other material. You can also have Andersen Library books and media delivered to other UW libraries, using Universal \(UW System\) Borrowing. The service is free and you'll receive an email when the item is available for pick-up.

The Library's databases are always available to you from off-campus.

Several Library online resources, including the EBSCO databases, have mobile apps that can be used with Android or iOS devices so you can take your searching with you.

And don't forget the 24x7 Ask a Librarian chat reference that's available even when the Library is closed.

Exam Prep Guides

If you don't want to shell out for entrance exam study guides, take a look at what the Library has to offer: GRE, GMAT, LSAT, TOEFL, and ASVAB study guides to name a few.

To find these guides, search HALCat for the exam name and the word guides. For example: GRE and guides.

Education Librarian Ellen Latorraca has great advice for students taking education-related exams. "While nothing can replace an aspiring teacher's academic preparation, the Library provides a number of test prep guides for students to review before taking their Praxis I, II, or Foundations of Reading Test."

"See the Test Prep Resources for Teacher Licensing Lib-Guide for items available to students in the library and online. Students should always consult the COEPS Test Information page first."
