Films on Demand

Films on Demand has been very good about captioning and otherwise making all their older content accessible.

Newer content is created with full accessibility in mind. But there are still a few older films that aren't captioned: mostly musical performances, foreign language films, and very short (less than 10 minute) works.

So before you assign a Films on Demand film or segment to your students, please make sure it has full captions. If not, you may contact the Library Reference Desk (x1032) and we will ask Films on Demand to caption the film, which they can generally do within two weeks.

Tidying Up Library Reserves

If you have books or media on Reserve at the Library for your classes, be sure to contact Reserves (x1021) to let them know what you'd like done with them.

Library copies will be returned to the shelves unless you contact us to reinstate them for the Summer term.

If you have personal items on Reserve, please arrange to pick them up at the end of Spring semester.

Instruction & Library Guides

Teaching a new course in the Fall? You might consider incorporating Library Instruction and/or Library Research Guides into your syllabus.

Reference Librarians are here all summer and we'd be happy to work with you to customize library instruction and guides for specific class assignments and learning objectives.

Contact your Librarian Liaison if you have questions or would like to get started on planning for Fall Library Instruction.

Relaxathon for Everyone

The Spring Relaxathon is not just for students. Faculty and staff have also been unwinding with Pet Therapy and a variety of creative activities. Our furry friends will be in the Library to share their canine charms with you during Pet Therapy:

- ◆ Mon. April 30—Thurs. May 3 12-2pm
- ◆ Mon. May 7—Thurs. May 10 12-2pm

More Relaxathon Events await you and your students, including:

- ◆ Coffee & Tea on weekends
- ◆ Popcorn at 9pm during exams
- ◆ Stress Balls
- ◆ Relax-Snax
- ◆ Zen Rock Painting
- ◆ Paint & Sip

See the Library's Events page for the full Relaxathon Schedule.
