The UW-Whitewater Area Research Center (ARC) is part of the Andersen Library’s services. It is a member of the 14-center Wisconsin Historical Society ARC network which serves researchers with materials and facilities throughout the state. The UW-W ARC houses manuscripts and public records which originated in and focus on Jefferson, Rock, and Walworth counties. While each ARC serves a specific geographic region, the Society maintains a courier service which allows members of the network to borrow collections housed elsewhere for use by their local patrons.

Resources at the UW-W ARC:
- Business records
- Census records
- City & county board minutes
- City directories
- Community organization records
- Court records
- Diaries
- Genealogy books
- Letters
- Local and county histories
- Local government records
- Manuscript collections
